$1 Million Worth Of Stolen Bonds Returned

MONTREAL (CP)—Quebec Provincial Police said today that about 1,000,000 in certified stocks and bonds stolen last April from the family vault of a Beauharnois Que. furniture company were delivered to police Tuesday.

Police said $15,000 in bearer securities, easily negotiable, and $125 in cash were not returned.

Provincial police director Hilaire Beauregard said it was evident the majority of the stocks and bonds were returned because whoever had them felt they would have trouble disposing of them and didn't want to be caught with them.

LEFT A PACKAGE
A package containing 5,200 shares and bonds with an average value of $200 each was left at the information desk in provincial police headquarters for Detective-Lieut. Albert Bisailon.

An unidentified messenger left the package and then disappeared.

Director Beauregard linked the return of the certificates to the arrest by Montreal police last week of two men on other charges.

The charges, not immediately specified, arose from investigation of the robbery at the Beauharnois plant where the vault was smashed open last April 17.

Bandits Hold Flame To Victim's Feet

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Three masked men held a flame to the bare feet of Fred Kingsmill Sr. at his home Tuesday night, to make the 69-year-old merchant reveal the combination of the vault at his downtown store.

They learned the combination but didn't get a chance to use it. Half an hour after the thugs left him tied up, Mr. Kingsmill freed himself and ran barefooted to a neighbor's house to phone police.

"They tied me, stuck an egg cup in my mouth, and held some kind of flame to my feet," Kingsmill said. "I pretended to pass out. They put cold compresses on my forehead, but I didn't react. They tried the flame treatment again. That's when I suffered."

ALSBURY PREDICTS
Election In Spring
VANCOUVER (CP)—A provincial election next spring was predicted today by Mayor Tom Alsbery of Vancouver.

"I'm convinced we're going to have an election right after the closing of the 1960 session of the legislature," he said in an interview.

Mayor Alsbery based his forecast partly on the fact that Premier Bennett took his holidays before Christmas this year.

"He usually takes his vacation after the legislature closes," he said. "It looks like he's decided he's going to be pretty busy next spring."

STRIKE ENDS
ANACONDA, Mont. (AP)—For the first time in 127 days, smoke curled above the Anaconda Company smelter here today, signaling an end to the second longest strike in the industry's history.

Headed by Porter Matteson from Waterloo, New York, the letter also stated it had almost all the U.S. phone books and that he is "in a position to help Kelowna city council."

He said he is now receiving books from all over the world and currently he is receiving books from Australia.

He said through the use of phonebooks he can trace families who leave their country and return to their old homeland.

It is necessary however, to have a new phone book each year to keep up to date with people's movements.

Major Slide Could Wipe Out Village

By ART BURNELL
(Daily Courier Staff Writer)

CANOE—This tiny Valley community seven miles east of Salmon Arm, has settled into an anxious period of watchful waiting.

Vella Mountain, four miles away across Shuswap Lake, started crumbling Monday.

Three slides hurled thousands of tons of rock into the lake. The face of Vella is weakened.

Reports today said new cracks have appeared in the wall of the 5,000-foot mountain.

A major slide would spell disaster for Canoe in the form of a tidal wave.

The community's 700 residents remember stories of a huge landslide in the late 1800s. The slide caused a mighty tidal wave that engulfed and obliterated a Shuswap Indian encampment where Canoe now stands.

Monday's slide provided a sample of what could happen. Huge waves were formed when boulders "as big as houses" cracked off the mountain and crashed into the lake.

Residents of Salmon Arm said they heard the thunder of the slides and could see the dust cloud.

Jack Brooks of Tippecanoe fishing camp nearby said the rumble sounded as if an oil truck had driven out onto his wharf.

Looking across the lake he said he saw boulders "as big as houses" crashing into the water.

Ten minutes later the second and still bigger slide roared down. The air was blanketed with a fine cloud of snow-like dust.

"It started about 1,000 feet up," he recalled. "We have had slides before, but nothing like this." "If that outcrop comes down it will send a wave across the lake that could wipe us out."

ROAD BLOCKED
The slides blocked the Tippecanoe Point Road for about 1,000 feet. The debris is 10 feet deep in places.

Fifteen families are marooned. Their only access to the outside is by boat.

Highway crews are taking some risk in clearing the debris. The cleanup may take a week to 10 days.

The highway is shattered with pits six to eight feet deep where 100-ton boulders bounced before hitting the lake.

POLLING DATES SET
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government poll of steelworkers asking them if they want to accept management's last contract offer will be conducted Jan. 11-13 if there is no settlement before then it was announced today.

Three From Wrecked Boat Found Alive

SHELBURNE, N. S. (CP)—Three survivors of the wrecked fishing boat Ray-Ola-K reached home today leaving their skipper and a shipmate behind.

Joseph Enslow, skipper and owner of the 35-ton craft, and crew member Luke Berringer, were drowned, washed overboard after the hubbort crashed onto the rocky shore of MacNutt's Island in a blizzard Tuesday night.

Hector Wiliams, about 35; Raymond Zurek, 40; and John Guy, 28, told rescuers they were swept a shore when the Ray-Ola-K's bow broke off. They managed to grope their way up the rocks above the water line.

All suffered from exposure and Guy was taken to hospital for treatment of frostbite.

The five men clung to the wreck for hours. Sometime before midnight, a wave took Enslow and Berringer into the sea.

NO MEETING POINT
Men of the present day, the Pope said, have not completely carried out effect the conditions of peace. As a result, "God's paths toward peace have no meeting point with those of men."

"Hence," he continued, "There is the abnormal situation of this post-war period which has created, as it were, two blocs with all their uneasy conditions."

Perhaps referring to President Eisenhower's three-continent mission of peace, as well as to other recent international events, he continued:

"The most recent events have created an atmosphere of so-called disengagement which has caused hopes to blossom in many minds, after life has been lived for so long in a state of pretended peace, in a situation of very great instability, that more than once has been threatened with a complete rupture."

They were given chances to improve mixed drinking in licensed premises, licensed restaurants, cocktail bars and clubs under an option voting plan.

In Saskatoon and Regina, voting was held early in the summer, but in most smaller communities was held up until province-wide municipal elections Nov. 4.

CITIES VOTED WET
In the majority of the province's towns and villages the "dry" vote carried. Saskatoon and Regina, however, voted "wet."

Pope John Calls For True Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John in his annual Christmas message to the world today called on its leaders to fashion a true peace.

"There is not a state of war," said the 78-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, "But neither is there peace."

Pope John spoke in Italian in response to Christmas greetings from the College of Cardinals. His message was broadcast by the Vatican Radio and was also carried over various European networks hooked in with the Vatican station.

Iran's Forces On Full Alert
TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iranian authorities today dispatched air and army reinforcements to the Abadan region and placed all armed forces on full alert. They said they acted against a possible Iraqi attack.

A squadron of jet planes was sent to Dezful airbase in Khuzistan province, in which Abadan is located. Abadan is the site of Iran's prime economic asset—the nationally-owned petroleum refineries.

The Iranian army, navy and air force were instructed to be ready to repel assault.

RELIEF FROM LONG "DROUGHT"

42-Year "Dry" Spell Over In Saskatchewan

SASKATOON (CP)—A 42-year "dry" spell ends in Saskatchewan today.

Forty-two years ago the provincial legislature passed a prohibition law outlawing consumption of liquor. It was the same year the United States passed its prohibition amendment to the constitution.

Today, for the first time since 1917, citizens may sit down in a restaurant and drink wine or liquor with their meals.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT
About this time, with thousands of immigrants moving in after the First World War, a strong temperance movement was beginning to make itself felt.

Saskatoon was founded by John Lake, commissioner of the Temperance Colonization Society.

Anti-drinking laws were enforced strictly until 1925 when liquor stores were established. Beer parlors—for men only—came in 1935.

It wasn't until this year that the issue of drinking liquor and wine by the glass was put up to voters.

They were given chances to improve mixed drinking in licensed premises, licensed restaurants, cocktail bars and clubs under an option voting plan.

In Regina earlier this month three hotels began operating beverage rooms where mixed drinking is allowed. Saskatoon is not expected to have mixed drinking until early next year.

But Saskatoon today has the first restaurant to serve beer, wine and spirits. The Gem Cafe, owned by pioneer restaurateur Jim Chomies, was to open its new Diamond Room and Emerald Room at 11:30 a.m.

Liquor can be bought only with meals and the quantity is governed by the size of the meal ticket.

Chicken and groceries are some of the Christmas goodies being packed in hamper by the Kelowna Elks Club for the less fortunate families in Kelowna.

VERNON (Staff) — Every unique problem. The lack of a causing sewage "to back up in the street" but one expressed moving body of water makes the special treatment necessary. An $475,000 sewage improvement by law did not receive the required 60 per cent majority at the Dec. 17 municipal election.

The exception was Ald. Fred August. Ald. August told council at its recent meeting that he had a "pay as you go" improvement plan.

It was pointed out that Ald. August had cast his vote in favor of the Hadden, Davis and Brown recommendations last summer, enabling council to make the motion unanimous.

"It appears you are deserting a sinking ship," said Mayor F. E. Becker.

"You are over 21 years of age and able to make your own decision. This one is certainly belated."

Several Fringe Dwellers Win Bids For City Water

By IVY HAYDEN
(Courier Staff Writer)

VERNON — Several fringe area dwellers will get city water in accordance with a Public Utilities Commission recommendation.

The commission heard the applications here Nov. 5.

Successful applicants were John Linder, W. G. Simms, N. K. Ogasawara, Albert Radke, Mike Shinkala, H. Lafferty and Paul Masnik.

Stanley Field, who requested a continued supply of unchlorinated city water, was told the present service would not be discontinued.

Refused was the application of Anderson Subdivision dweller Stephen Popichuk.

A letter from the commission explained that this service might come eventually, if the city conducts a recommended study of possibilities of water extension to this area.

Another applicant was refused city water as he did not appear at the hearing.

The commission authorized metering of all outside services. Feed lines are to be installed at the cost of the applicant.

The letter warned that the city may have to increase its water supply. This has been one of council's main arguments against extension of services beyond Vernon's boundaries.

There have been more than 100 new connections this year.

SUBSIDIZING

"Vernon taxpayers are subsidizing fringe area dwellers," declared Ald. Charles McDowell, chairman of the city's water committee.

"We are spending more money than we are taking in," he added that he "did not see why the taxpayers should have to build an eight inch water main on 15th St. to serve those who live beyond the boundaries."

"QUITE FAIR"

However, the water chairman added that by and large, the PUC findings were "quite fair."

Ald. McDowell recalled that the city's water service was first extended beyond city limits to a typhoid epidemic and to gain access to water reserves.

Mayor Becker notes that 55 persons living within the boundaries were not getting water.

"If they were given this service, I wouldn't object to much to extending it outside the boundaries."

The PUC letter noted that recommendations only were made, not formal order.

It thanked the city of Vernon for an "amicable and cooperative" reception.

TERRIBLE LEGEND

Face Of A Mountain Slips Away

A PEEK UNDER THE FLAP COST CHERRYVILLE YOUTH $100.00

LAVINGTON (Staff) — Curiosity cost 16-year-old Hughie Kohlman, of Cherryville, $100 yesterday.

A participant in Henri's Shop-Easy store, bonus card game, Hughie with some friends decided they would take a peek at the prize underneath their cards.

His two friends lost out on $2.50 each, but when Hughie pulled his tag, the figure $100 stood boldly out on the card.

After he recovered his breath, Hughie remarked, "Well that certainly would have bought a lot of clothes or fixed up my car."

Hughie had less than $30 to punch on his card before it would have been officially ready for opening.

"I bet he won't let curiosity get the better of him again, not when it might cost $100," said Henri Tremblay, the store owner.

CANOE, B.C. (CP) — The face of a mountain with a terrible legend connected to it crashed down Tuesday, raising a dust cloud 300 feet high.

Witnesses at this little community across Shuswap Lake, 30 miles north of Vernon, said nobody lived at the site of the slide. Jack Brooks, operator of a fishing camp 1 1/2 miles across the lake from the slide on 4,200-foot Mount Villa, said there were two slides.

One took off part of the face the other left a scar between 300 and 400 feet high and 50 feet deep.

He said the slide covered a road for a distance of about three or four city blocks but the nearest residence was one-quarter of a mile away. There are no rail lines on that side of the lake.

SLIDES EVERY YEAR

He said part of the mountain, in the Bastion range, part of the Selkirk, collapses each year.

A legend says the majority of the Shuswap Indian tribe was wiped out in about the 18th century when a huge tidal wave caused by a slide from the mountain deluged a village.

"There are slides every year on the mountain," Mr. Brooks said. "But this was the worst in years."

Vernon Air Cadets Hold Yule Party Four People Take "Loot"

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon air cadets held their annual Christmas party and four lucky area residents picked up some extra Christmas goodies as the result of a lucky draw put on by the boys to raise funds for renovation of their drill hall.

Cadet Ben Thorslaussen drew the name of E. Hertzler, of Armstrong, for a turkey. John Vian, also of Armstrong, had his number drawn by cadet Ted Clavton for a leg of lamb. Tom Mann will feast on a choice ham as the result of cadet Don Humphrey drawing out his name and Alby Edwards, office manager of the Okanagan Telephone Company in Vernon, will have a large Christmas cake to grace his table. Cadet Brian Melndoe did the honors.

With $265 raised toward renovations by the sale of the draw tickets, prizes were also awarded to the high ticket sellers. Ron Robbin, $5; Kurt Taylor, $3; and Tom Edwards, $2.

Squadron Commander, Fit Lt. Ken Walker and chairman of the group committee, C. D. Dobbin, thanked the parents and the boys for the wonderful cooperation they had received during the year.

Out of 42 boys on strength, 37 with their parents turned out for the party.

Gen. Murison Raps Claim Of Liberal Leader

VICTORIA (CP) — Major-General C. A. P. Murison has denied a claim by Liberal leader Ray Perrault that he would have been a Liberal party candidate in the next provincial election if he could have been guaranteed the portfolio of finance minister.

Gen. Murison, who will seek a Progressive Conservative nomination in Victoria, said Mr. Perrault had offered him a cabinet position, but he had declined to support the Liberal party after a careful study of its platform.

"On his last visit I told him that having studied it, it appeared to me to be the policy of a party that didn't expect to be a government and I couldn't support it," said Gen. Murison.

Mr. Perrault said Gen. Murison, retiring reeve of North Cowichan, had asked specifically for the finance portfolio and had said he was not interested in the position of municipal affairs minister.

"We just couldn't operate on that basis," said Mr. Perrault. "How can you make a deal and remain honest? Anyway, we have Archie Gibbs who has been a Liberal MLA for years."

He said he was "a little annoyed at reports the Liberals had been unable to get Gen. Murison. After the stipulation of a portfolio we stopped talking to the general about his candidacy."

Pioneer Ranch At Savona Sold

KAMLOOPS (CP) — The Leighton Ranch at Savona, one of B.C.'s pioneer cattle ranches, has been sold to the Whispering Pines Ranch at Blackpink, B.C.

Almost 1,000 Area Families To Receive Christmas Aid

It looks like when Santa comes to town he just about visits everyone.

More than 800 families in Kelowna and district will receive a $5 bonus from old St. Nicholas through the Kelowna Social Welfare office.

Gordon Schumann, district supervisor, told The Daily Courier there are "a lot more" families needing benefits this year.

The Kinettes' contribute 10 to 12 layettes a year to the welfare system.

Working in liaison with the social welfare office are the Kelowna Clothing Committee and the Dorens Welfare Society.

Both provide new and used clothes for families who are in need. The Kelowna Welfare Committee, which provides food for families who are in need, is also providing food for the families of the unemployed and in need, being in possession of liquor.

Kelowna Resident For 37 Years Dies Here Tues.

A resident of Kelowna for 37 years, George Robert Renals, died Tuesday in Kelowna General Hospital. He was 69 years of age.

He was born in Leicester, England, and educated in that country before coming to Canada in 1908. He settled in Winnipeg, and was married there two years later.

Mr. Renals was associated with a manufacturing company before his retirement in 1940.

He is survived by his wife, Edith, 1004 Bernard Ave., and two sons, George, in Calgary and Leche at home.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m., Dec. 24 at Day's Chapel of Remembrance, with interment to follow in Kelowna Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Robert Richmond, Cliff Hartwick, William Rojant, Harold Burke, Don McLeod and Donald Day.

Change In System Blamed For BCTF Estimate Error

A change in the pooling system has been given as the main factor for errors in the peach pool estimate by B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

The estimate, made Sept. 21, suggested Vee's, Elbertas and Hales could finish about half a cent higher than in 1958, and Fishers about half a cent more.

The former actually returned one-quarter cent below the estimate. Glanar and Fishers finished almost a fifth of a cent higher.

"The forecast was wrong on every count," says the sales agency, "there is no mistake about that."

"It was made very reluctantly, because we know what treacherous ground we were on," they added.

Other factors contributing to the mistaken estimate were the change in the proportion of the crop sold to canners and the variation in the size of the fruit. "These reasons are not offered as an excuse for poor forecasting," says BCTF. "But indicate the reasons that can make a guess at pool prices so unreliable and misleading."

In 1959, the tree census and estimating was sometimes good, states Tree Fruits—and some of it was grossly wrong. "There is no doubt the apricot, peach and prune pools suffered as a result," the agency claims.

Growers were reminded estimates depend on their knowledge of their trees, and the prompt completion of his estimate sheets.

The research station at Sammeland, with help from BCTF, is investigating a "scientific" approach to assist in estimating the provincial department of agriculture is helping also in compiling estimates from information supplied by district horticulturists.

With this assistance, the agency states "we hope 1960 will produce good estimates again."

Applications Pile Up As Licence Forms Remain Undelivered

Government agent, F. R. Oatman, told The Daily Courier he has 200 undelivered application forms for 1960 motor vehicle plates.

He said anyone who has not received his application and has changed his address recently is quite likely to find it in the government licence department.

He also stated no one will get their 1960 plates without an application.

Other years undelivered applications were sent back to Victoria but now they are sent to the government agent.

Two Hundred Canadians Will Die On Streets During Holidays

Nearly 200 Canadians will die on Canada's streets and highways over the Christmas and New Year's holidays if past records follow true, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation.

The drinking driver, late parties, early darkness and adverse weather conditions all combine to build this annual toll, but careful driving and common sense could prevent almost all the deaths. The federation, which represents more than 250 fire, casualty and automobile insurance companies, offers these recommendations which will help make a happier holiday season for everyone:

1. Do not drive after drinking; even one or two drinks can seriously impair your driving ability.
2. If you must travel after drinking, get a sober friend to drive you, or call a cab.

3. When you give a party, provide your guests with coffee or similar beverages before they leave.

4. Avoid long trips, especially when you have had too little sleep because of holiday festivities.

5. Try to plan your travels for the times when traffic is light.

6. Drive a little slower and more carefully; you may be sober, but the other driver may not.

7. Keep special watch for children who are out of school during the holiday season.

8. Watch for pedestrians; they may not see cars if they are bundled up in winter clothing or carrying an armload of parcels.

9. When in doubt, yield the right-of-way to other drivers. It is better to avoid an accident than to insist upon your right-of-way.

Government Immigration Policy Predicted As "Hot" Issue

Next Twelve Months Will See Economic Shifts In World

By DAVE OANCA
London Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — New and revolutionary trade patterns are emerging as the world enters 1960. The next 12 months are likely to see the European Economic Community—launched a couple of years ago by France, Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries—develop its position as one of the world's big producing and trading areas.

Qualified observers say the economic shifts should be quite noticeable within the next six to eight months. They pinpoint the key date as next July 1—the date when the "Six" shave down still more tariffs among themselves as they head along the road which may ultimately lead to a United States of Europe.

These groupings for unity on the continent have been accompanied by a "Six" called "Americanization" of western European nations, with more and more economies being geared to meet consumer demands.

One of the basic aims of the six-nation Common Market is to raise the living standard of the people in its area. Its goal is to form a customs union within a decade. This is to be done by eliminating all customs duties on trade among the member countries, and by creating a common tariff wall around the whole area.

The result will be a highly industrialized economic unit almost as rich as, and providing a market as large as, that in the United States — a development described as one of the great turning points in European history.

Shrewd American investors have been pouring funds into the Common Market countries at a record rate to develop the plant and market facilities needed to take advantage of the new market.

No definite trend has yet appeared, but the indications are that U.S. investors are injecting more capital into the Economic Community than they are putting into either Britain or her partners in the recently formed Outer Seven trading area.

This direct investment is prompted more by the desire to tap new markets and to preserve old ones than by the lower wage scales in Europe.

The investment pattern is causing concern in Britain and other European countries outside the Common Market. Division of Europe into rival trading groups is attributed by many to Britain's reluctance in past years to draw closer to Europe.

More than a year ago talks on a British-backed wider trading area in Europe collapsed and the "Six" pushed on with their tightly-knit community.

Britain reacted to this by spearheading a drive to form the Little Free Trading Area. She was joined by Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland and Portugal in forming the European Free Trade Association.

Britain and her colleagues, anxious to avoid a European trade war, hope that a way can be found to bridge the gap between the "Six" and "Seven."

At present, the independent Paris newspaper Le Monde says, the bridge remains a "bridge of sighs."

One observer says: "The Six are interested only in the integration of Common Market countries and their relations with the rest of the world. They are no longer thinking in terms of Europe as a continental trading area. They are thinking of developing acceptable world-wide trading patterns."

LOOK ACROSS ATLANTIC
The Six have a reason for this. They are looking beyond Europe, are running bigger trade to North America—where Canada deficits than at any time since the U.S., their best custom—the war.

OTTAWA REPORT Flag -- Symbol Of Unity

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Ten years ago, Canada proposed that the North Atlantic alliance should be a partnership for prosperity as well as for defence. Our foreign minister, Hon. L. B. Pearson, predicted that this alliance was "the foundation on which may be built an economic commonwealth, and perhaps even a political commonwealth, of the western world."

"No vision less than this will do," he asserted. Our European allies got that vision.

But their hopes were dashed by the refusal of the two North American members of the alliance, Canada and U.S.A., to make any move to implement this economic partnership, although it was included in the treaty which they had solemnly signed.

Nevertheless, inspired by such visionaries as Britain's Winston Churchill and encouraged by such planners as France's Jean Monnet, many of our European allies decided to move ahead without us laggards. They began the enthusiastic planning of a Brave New Trading World, which would see all their workers enjoying shorter hours, their pay exorbitant, their purchasing power, gadgets taking the drudgery out of their wives' home-making, and an occupied garage standing beside every home.

But it would have a perhaps compensating advantage, in building a free trade area on a base other than NATO. For this alliance, having failed for ten years to implement the Canadian proposal for co-operation in non-military fields, is now regarded distastefully by the rest of the world as being merely a military alliance.

Six into a larger free trade area. If this is so, says North America sceptically, it would cause an even more disastrous trade war between our continent and Europe. In either case, the NATO alliance would be effectively disrupted—which has for ten years been Russia's chief Cold War aim.

Significantly, the Seven, unlike the Six, includes nation's outside NATO. A merger of these two groups would thus expand Mr. Pearson's dream of "economic commonwealth" beyond the NATO alliance. This would bar the benefits of pooled defence production.

But their hopes were dashed by the refusal of the two North American members of the alliance, Canada and U.S.A., to make any move to implement this economic partnership, although it was included in the treaty which they had solemnly signed.

Nevertheless, inspired by such visionaries as Britain's Winston Churchill and encouraged by such planners as France's Jean Monnet, many of our European allies decided to move ahead without us laggards. They began the enthusiastic planning of a Brave New Trading World, which would see all their workers enjoying shorter hours, their pay exorbitant, their purchasing power, gadgets taking the drudgery out of their wives' home-making, and an occupied garage standing beside every home.

But it would have a perhaps compensating advantage, in building a free trade area on a base other than NATO. For this alliance, having failed for ten years to implement the Canadian proposal for co-operation in non-military fields, is now regarded distastefully by the rest of the world as being merely a military alliance.

Dulles Died After Long Cancer Fight

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

John Foster Dulles, who as U.S. state secretary tried for seven years to shape the West's foreign policy to his own unbending principles, died during 1959 of the cancer he had battled for more than three years.

Although his inflexible, unflinching policy toward the Communist bloc had come under fire from many Western countries, both friend and foe paid him a tribute to his quiet, courageous struggle against the painful disease.

President Eisenhower had tears in his eyes as he announced the death of his long-time, 71-year-old friend May 23.

The United States lost another elder statesman when George C. Marshall, 78, originator of the European recovery plan that bore his name, died Oct. 16.

The movie world lost several outstanding stars.

Kay Kendall, 33-year-old comedian wife of Rex Harrison, died of leukemia Sept. 6.

Edmund Gwenn, 83-year-old character actor, died the same day.

Paul Douglas, 52, actor-husband of Hollywood star, Jan Sterling, died Sept. 11.

Wayne Morris, 45, collapsed and died from a heart attack while visiting an ailing carrier Sept. 14.

FLYNN AMONG THEM
Errol Flynn, swashbuckling hero of romantic films, died at 50 of a heart attack Oct. 14 in Vancouver. Only one week earlier, Mario Lanza, billed as the second Caruso, died in Rome, aged 38.

Victor McLaglen, 72, son of an English clergyman who turned from an army career to prospecting and farming in Northern Ontario and prize fighting in British Columbia before becoming an actor, died Nov. 7.

Ethel Bargmore, an actress for 65 of her 79 years, died June 18. The last of a famous family, she outlived her brothers John and Lionel.

The master of the big epic—Cecil B. DeMille—died Jan. 21. He was 77. Rotund Lou Costello, 53, member of the top comic duo of Abbott and Costello for more than 20 years, died March 20 almost broke.

SOUTH AFRICA LOST PM
The death of art sculptor Sir Jacob Epstein, 78, whose controversial works led to many violent protests and even riots, died in London Aug. 19.

Children's Christmas Party First Occasion In WI Hall

LAKEVIEW HEIGHTS — The Women's Institute children's Christmas party last Friday, was the first event in the new WI hall, and a great credit to its members.

The hall was filled to capacity with most of the young children and parents from the VLA. The president, Mrs. J. A. Young gave a short address of welcome. Mrs. R. Willis sang "Bless This House" which was dedicated to the hall. The entertainment was very good and must have taken many hours of preparation by Mrs. R. Kaerne and Mrs. J. Fenton.

Taking part were Alan Foster, Jeanette Rice, Michael Poole, and Linda Fenton in a shadow pantomime. Four of the boys from Albert Bartle's band played a selection, they were Boyd Topham, Robert Small, Wayne Bartle and Darrell Seriver. Patrick Seriver tap dancer. Katy and Maria Crittendon sang. Michael and Susan Kaerne and Howard Fenton also sang. A nativity pageant was presented, with Timothy St. Denis, Glenda and Gloria Lingor, Marie Dooley, Patrick Seriver, Leonard Bidwell, Philip and April Thorner and with Mrs. E. Lower as narrator. The band played carols: Jane Wannop, Deborah Howes and Gail Peters performed a ballet solo. A Wrens and his three small daughters sang a carol: "The Night Before Christmas" was recited by Michael and

Christmas Pageant Greatly Enjoyed

OKANAGAN MISSION — The St. Andrew's Sunday School Pageant held at the Community Hall on Monday evening, was a great success, and was performed for a large and appreciative audience. Much work had been done by the teachers of the Junior Sunday School, Mrs. M. G. Turner, Mrs. Alfred Haines, Mrs. H. C. Dunlop, Misses Anne Swaisland, Patricia Upton, Vivien Haines and Marilyn Harris, and by the teachers in the Senior Sunday School, whose pupils supplied the choir.

The program opened with "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" followed by the Welcome Song. Miss Joan Willett, supt. of the Senior Sunday School welcomed the assembled company. The tableaux of Joseph and his Brethren followed, after which the choir sang "Jesus Bids Us Shine." The Moses tableaux was followed by the singing of "Praise Him." The tableaux of David was followed by everyone singing "O Come All Ye Faithful." The last tableaux of the evening was a very lovely one—the Nativity. A most successful evening ended with all the children on the stage, and the choir singing "Silent Night."

The pageant had been well thought out, was very colorful, costumes and music excellent. Mrs. R. Hall was the accompanist. To all the people who so ably assisted backstage, the Sunday School also extends its grateful thanks.

Two NHL Rookies Added To List Of Contenders For Calder Award

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Somebody had afterthoughts and it's turning out to be a bumper year for National Hockey League rookies after all. At the start of the season, only two names looked as if they might wind up engraved on the Calder Trophy—Stan Mikita and Billy Hicke. Mikita still looks like a good bet but two players who weren't even in the NHL until a few weeks ago—Hicke and Murray Oliver—only three goals and six assists in 32 games.

look even better.

Hicke, 21, almost was conceded the rookie award the moment he was put on an NHL uniform. He has yet to show why. Last year he scored 41 goals and 97 assists for Rochester Americans of the American League to become the first rookie in the league's history to win the scoring championship. Brought up by Montreal Canadiens this year, he has managed

Dick Warwick Wanted By Kitchener Squad

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—The Olympic-bound Kitchener-Waterloo team is trying to sign up Dick Warwick, who is just completing a hockey coaching visit to Poland. The Warwick brothers who were stranded in Poland Tuesday night when bad weather washed out clouds and fog prevented arrival of the British European Airways plane on which the Warwick brothers were to return to Canada. The Warwick brothers, who spent 30 days coaching and playing exhibition games in Poland, now plan to leave today and still hope to make it home to Edmonton for Christmas.

Brother Trio Leads Nelson To Victory

ROSSLAND (CP)—Sparkling play by Fritz, Red and Jerry Koehle Tuesday night faced Nelson Maple Leafs to a 4-1 victory over Rossland Warriors and a share of first place in the Western Hockey League. Leafy now share top spot with Trail Smoke Eaters with the hapless Warriors mired deep in the cellar.

Fritz Koehle and playing-coach Mickey Maglio each scored twice for Leafs, with single goals coming from the sticks of Red Koehle, Garth Lapack, Dave Stewart and Howe Hornby. Red Anderson scored three of the four Rossland tallies. Les Ferguson added the fourth. Meanwhile, goalie Jerry Koehle, handed 27 shots in the Nelson net, many of them difficult. At the opposite end, Bruno Fortin turned aside 35.

NO PENALTIES—The game marked the first time out for a good will gesture and this season that no penalties were called. Nelson romped to a 6-1 first period onslaught with two corners in the first 3 1/2 minutes of play.

Maglio, with his first, Red Koehle at 16:37 of the second to count the only goal of the middle stanza. Stewart made it 8-1 early in the third and after Ferguson scored for Rossland, Hornby rammed in a rebound to end the Nelson-led season with a 311 mark in scoring.

Andrews came back with two terms and will sign later. Holgois for Warriors in the final hand said he is used mainly as a pinch-hitter by the Cubs.

Outfielder Noren To Be Back in '60

CHICAGO (AP)—Outfielder Irv Noren, 35, was taken out of retirement to play the 1960 season with the Chicago Cubs, general manager John Holland announced today.

Noren, the Cubs' leading batter, scored three runs in 21 games, agreed verbally to a one-year contract.

Bribe Attempt Rocks Cagers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Penguins, rocked by a reported bribe attempt in shade of the black case scandals of nine years ago, may be feeling the effects. Dick Falcuski, who had been perching 14 points a game for Pittsburgh, and John Falcuski, a team's top rebounder, reported Monday that they had been offered a bribe Tuesday night to play for the Penguins.

Monday, a hearing for defendant Edward H. Sebastian, 43, was postponed from today to next Tuesday because of the Falcuski case.

The players had said Dr. Sebastian, former dental instructor at Pitt, offered them a guarantee to enter dental school and 50 per cent of winnings if they would keep Pitt's scores within between 10 and 20 goals.

Dr. Sebastian has denied the bribery charges, although assistant district attorney Edward F. Fagan said the dentist admitted offering to help the players enter dental school and to purchase a car at reduced rates.

Stamps Down Comets 4-1 To Take Over 4th Spot

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

An intermediate league net-minder has taken the gift off Spokane Comets' hopes for a points - gaining Western Hockey League tour of the prairies. Comets, deep in the cellar, took the ice against Calgary Stampede Tuesday night with the Stampede using substitute goalie Bill Gillett of the Big Six intermediate League's Calgary Andersens.

But they beat him only once. Boxer Day, when the league-leading Vancouver Canucks play a home-and-home double-header against third-place Victoria Cougars; Spokane moves on to Winnipeg Warriors territory and Stampede plays Edmonton.

Recent Hockey Skirmish Small Compared To 1953

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The big blowup in the National Hockey League game at Montreal the other night between Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs was a minor skirmish compared with their so-called "war of 1812" staged in Toronto six years ago. Referee Eddie Powers called 24 penalties as Canadiens won 8-2, and 10 of them in the second period when players chose partners to slug it out. All players on the ice at the time, except the goalkeepers, were ordered to the penalty box.

The total was far off the record set Dec. 9, 1953, when Canadiens and Leafs held their famous "war of 1812"—so named because the rumpus started at 18:12 of the third period. At that time, Referee Frank Udvari cleared both benches in a mass misconduct penalty.

The game ended with each team playing foul men, including the goalies, and Leafs the winners by 3-0. Two days later, weary NHL officials came out of a huddle to announce that the 36 penalties called was a league record.

Research showed the previous high in total penalties was 35—all in minor—on a Nov. 12, 1931, game with New York Rangers in Montreal. Total penalties in minutes in last week's game was 68, far off the 204 record in the 1953 brawl when Canadiens amassed 196 penalty-minutes and Leafs 98.

Luis Rodriguez Must Win Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

This is the one Luis Rodriguez has to win. He knows it. The unbeaten welterweight boxer from Canagay, Cuba, ranked No. 2 among the challengers, meets third-ranked Garnet "Sugar" Hart in a 10-rounder tonight.

If Rodriguez wins—he's a 2-to-1 favorite—he is in a direct line for a shot at Don Jordan's world crown. If Jordan doesn't defend his crown within the six-month period of grace which expires in January, Rodriguez would be the logical man to ascend to the throne.

This is the reasoning of promoter Chris Duncanson who says he has offered Jordan $50,000 to meet tonight's winner.

The fight will be televised by ABC starting at 8 p. m. MST.

Ice Fishing Proves Big Sport In Eastern Canada

PEPPERLAW, Ont. (CP)—The times Day, many of them with freeze-up has settled in and the Lake Simcoe community is "There's been a lot more snow, so are thousands of fishermen who greet the first ice with the same delight they show when it disappears in the spring."

The shanty season is at hand. It came late this year, but with a vigor that indicates it is here to stay. A cold snap which coincided with the official arrival of winter laid a promising sheet of ice over the lake where only three days ago there was open water.

"Good, flat ice," Alex Mercer described it Tuesday as he pushed his first fish hat out to the shore. Georgian Island, off the community on the lake's south shore.

POPULAR SPORT

Mercur is one of dozens of fish hat or "shanty" operators scattered around the shore of the big lake about 40 miles north of Toronto. The freeze-up brings tenting a young customer from all over Southern Ontario and New York state.

A good weekend sees as many as 8,000 on the lake, driving their own cars if snow conditions permit over as much as two feet of snow in search of lake trout, herring and whitefish.

The fishing, in fact, may rank as one of Ontario's fastest-growing sports. There were 4,400 shanties on the lake last year compared with 800 in 1949.

Mercur expects the first customers will be on hand by Christmas.

Outstanding Teddy Bears Invited To Senior A Tournament At Coast

Meikle Teddy Bears, an outstanding team with no competition in the Okanagan, has been invited to the British Columbia Senior "A" Women's Basketball tournament at Vancouver January 29 and 30.

The local girls, who under the keen coaching of Bob Hall won the provincial Senior "B" championship two years in a row, were asked to the tourney because of Hastings, UBC Thunderettes and their amazing record over the past two years.

The Teddy Bears have lost only two games in two years and this when they played Richmond in a year have an astounding average Vancouver.

"We stand a very good chance against. They have played six of winning this competition, program games this season in Okanagan viding all of the girls on the team will be allowed time off from the provincial "B" championship. The Kelowna squad will be their jobs," said coach Hall this morning.

REVIEW OF 1959

Canada Heads Into Olympic Year With Only Minor Power In Sports

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canada heads into the 1960 Olympic year as a minor power in international sports competition. Prospects for world recognition rest almost entirely with winter-sports athletes.

Only a few outstanding performances by amateurs were made in 1959. Any honors of mention were obtained on foreign soil.

They belonged to Ottawa skier Anne Heggtveit, the Toronto figure skater of Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul, veteran golfer Stan Leonard of Vancouver, speedboat driver Bob Hayward of Ennisville, Ont., and Belleville McFarlands who won the world amateur title in Europe and returned to a financial scandal.

PAN-AMERICAN EFFORT
A team of 175 Canadian amateur athletes competed in the third Pan-American Games at Chicago last summer and finished a disappointing fourth in the medals distribution. The Games were open only to North and South American countries, and the results indicated Canada had no hope of making a respectable showing in the Rome Olympics next August.

Gymnast Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Ont., captured four of Canada's eight gold medals in competition only against U.S. girls. A second-place finish in the women's 100-metre backstroke established swimmer Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., as one of the world's best in this event.

With Winter Olympic Games set for Squaw Valley, Calif., Feb. 18-28, observers are looking for big things from the skiers, figure skaters and possibly, Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen who lost the Olympic crown to Russia in the 1956 games at Cortina, Italy.

The 21-year-old Miss Heggtveit scored two notable skiing victories in Europe in 1959—the women's combined championship at the Blue Ribbon tournament in St. Moritz, Switzerland, and the same triumph at the Ariberg-Kandahar races in Germany. These, against top-flight competitors, stamped her as a possible medal winner at Squaw Valley.

TOP SKATERS
Figure skaters Miss Wagner and Paul finished sixth in the 1956 Games, but since then they've developed into the best pairs team in the world. In 1959, they retained their world title for the third consecutive year at Colorado Springs to complete a sweep following victories in the North American and Canadian championships.

Another skater given an excellent chance for a medal is 18-year-old Don Jackson of Oshawa, Ont., who won the North American crown in Toronto and gave world champion Dave Jenkins of the United States a close battle in the world tournament at Colorado Springs. Jackson was second.

STORMY CROSSING
WALSLEY, England (AP)—The Great Lakes ore carrier Westriver was towed up the Tyne River to port after a month-long crossing under tow from Canada in the worst Atlantic gales in more than 20 years.

The 10,012-ton ship was manned by only 16 seamen—most of them officers. Twenty-one crew members quit in Halifax, saying the ship was not safe for the voyage.

MILD QUAKE
TOKYO (AP)—A mild earthquake, felt in Tokyo early today, the Central Meteorological Agency reported. There were no reports of damage or casualties.

CANDY FOR CONVICTS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Alcatraz convicts this Christmas are permitted to buy a two-pound box of candy—for the first time in the 25-year history of the federal maximum security island prison. Alcatraz has no commissary for prisoner purchases.

ACTOR'S ESTATE IN RED
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor John Barrymore's estate wound up more than $100,000 in the red because of income taxes. A final accounting in court recently listed assets of $10,812.54, mostly from the recent sale of his interest in three old movies. But he owed more than $10,000 in taxes for 1939, 1940 and 1941. He died in 1942.

FIND PLANE WHEEL
PANAMA (AP)—A wheel and tire of the type on a Colombian Airlines missing since Dec. 8, with 46 persons aboard have been found by fishermen in the Caribbean about 150 miles east of here. The missing plane was en route from San Andres Island, off the coast of Nicaragua, to Cartagena, Colombia. The plane's route lay over the area where the wheel was found.

TWO PILOTS DIE
ROME (AP)—A four-engine turboprop Viscount of the Italian Alitalia airline crashed into a hangar during a practice landing at Rome's Ciampino Airport recently. The plane, only one hour old, was carrying two pilots, who were killed. They were trying to land using only the aircraft's two left engines, and apparently lost control.

Andy Bathgate Says Little On $500 Fine

NEW YORK (CP)—Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers said Tuesday that he doesn't feel free to talk about the $500 fine levied against him by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell as a result of a magazine article he wrote.

However, he said he would like to be able to make that money back by being selected for the second All-Star team.

But playing center he may have my chance, said Bathgate, who made the first All-Star team at right wing last year.

Campbell also announced Monday night that New York General Manager Muzz Patrick has been fined $100 as a result of the magazine story regarding alleged hockey brutality. The article appeared in the Canadian edition of the magazine True.

Patrick, in commenting on the fine Monday night, said "I don't like the fine, but then I squawk like every time I get a $15 parking ticket."

The article, in the January edition, dealt with spearing—use of a hockey stick blade for stabbing—and said "it's going to kill somebody." It also said: "But I guess nothing will be done about it until somebody is killed. Then it'll be too late."

JIMMY BROWN of Cleveland Browns has won his third straight National Football league ground-gaining title and set a league record for rushing attempts. He has been in the league only three years.

The 228-pound fullback carried the ball 290 times for the season. Ed Price of New York Giants set the previous season record of 271 in 1951. His season ground-gaining total reached 1,329 yards. He did better last year when he rushed 1,527 yards on 257 carries.

RECORDS BROKEN BY NY GIANTS
NEW YORK (AP)—New York Giants broke all their attendance records this year in winning their second straight Eastern Conference title of the National Football League.

The Giants drew 389,603 customers to their regular six home games this year for an average of 64,933 at Yankee Stadium.

Last year the club attracted 292,436 fans for six games. In addition another 61,274 saw the conference playoff with Cleveland Browns and 64,185 paid for the championship contest with Baltimore Colts.

On the road this year, the Giants played before 250,273 fans in six games compared to 225,679 for the same number of games in 1958.

For both home and away the Giants lured 639,866 in 1959 compared to 518,115 in 1958 for a similar 12-game program.

QUEBEC (CP)—Springfield Indians, clinging from a winning two days ago to center of the Quebec Aces Tuesday night test the Quebec team in an American Hockey League game at 7:30 p.m.

The win cemented the Indians' spot in first place. Quebec won 6-4 when the teams clashed here Sunday.

Bob McCord, Dennis Green and Harry Whitney scored for the Indians. Otis O'Brien scored for the Aces.

Aces were held scoreless until the last three minutes of play. Wednesday night game at 7:30 p.m. Springfield Aces. Quebec Aces.

Worsley was carried off on a stretcher, suffering a concussion. But he returned in 15 minutes to finish out the game.

Quebec goalie Al Miller stopped 24 shots, four more than Worsley.

Bob McCord and Georges Roy drew majors for a brief but lively fight late in the first period. McCord had the edge in the slugfest. A total of 17 penalties were called.

New Masks "Not So Good" Says Rangers Goaltender

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—As if National Hockey League goaltenders don't have enough troubles, they can't even start a tad without running into bugs.

Take the sad, sad cases of Marcel Paille of New York Rangers and Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens and the medium-sad case of Don Simmons of Boston Bruins.

Paille, having watched enviously while Plante and Simmons wore their new masks, decided to have one made for himself. It had a couple of refinements over the others and he thought it would be the last word.

"But," Marcel said in an interview Tuesday, "It is not so good as I thought. The perspiration from my forehead drops into my eyes and I can't see so good."

"And when I try for low shots, my vision is blurred. It is uncomfortable, like wearing someone else's glasses."

It will go back to the manufacturer and Marcel will take his chances with a bare face tonight in a game against Chicago Black Hawks.

Plante has been placed in the hands of science. Coach Toe Blake told Jacques to see the club physician and arrange some eye tests with and without mask.

Blake has been lukewarm on the mask idea from the start. He became more suspicious than ever when the league-leading Canadiens ran into a slump.

Simmons is still using his mask, which is modelled after Plante's. He is moderately satisfied after three games.

"But," he admits ruefully, "I did lose one goal against the Rangers last week because of the mask."

What's catching your eye more and more in daily newspaper ads?

ONE OF A SERIES
ANSWER: COLOR! One of the most exciting developments in the newspaper business is the rapidly increasing availability and use of Run-Of-Paper color. In the United States and Canada there are now over 925 daily newspapers with more than 46 million circulation offering ROP color to advertisers. And more and more advertisers are taking advantage of this new dimension of newspaper advertising. Color is catching—and it is catching more and more eyes in the daily newspaper.

U.S. Stands Firm Over Stamp Issue

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—When it comes to sending Christmas cards to Canada with insufficient postage, the United States post office may appear as Scrooge, but many a postal clerk is playing Santa Claus by paying the postage.

For the U.S. post office department has taken a stand—a stand from which it will not budge—to burn thousands of Christmas cards destined to Canada and other countries because of insufficient postage.

"The law is the law," said L. Robe Walter, special assistant to postmaster general Arthur E. Summerfield when asked whether the Christmas spirit might move the department to relax its regulations a bit.

SENDER'S FAULT

"Mr. Summerfield is not changing position. Maybe, as you say, many old aunts and uncles may not get their cards this Christmas. But that is the fault of the senders—not the department."

The confusion over postage rates developed when the United States pushed its intercity and international first-class postal rates to four cents an ounce from three cents.

A year ago Walter said all letters going to Canada, Mexico and other international points must go as first-class mail at four cents an ounce whether sealed or not.

He said the department had thoroughly publicized the increase through the country. However, Canadian Embassy officials said some suburban post offices still are advising senders on the old rates. Three cents on unsealed cards; four cents on sealed.

Even Walter, in repeating the new rate, stumbled and listed the old rate in a conversation with a reporter. He corrected himself after conferring with departmental officials.

INTO INCINERATOR

"It's four cents an ounce—sealed or unsealed," Walter said. So cards with insufficient postage and no return address are dumped in the incinerator.

Reports of the destruction aroused one Miami television station—WPST—to broadcast an appeal for funds to cover any deficiency on cards going to Canada and Mexico. At Minneapolis, postal workers dug into their pockets to buy stamps covering more than 10,000 cards. Postal clerks were reported passing the hat at other eastern U.S. points to keep the cards moving across the border. Walter said this kind of action is all right by him—as long as the U.S. government isn't charged with the cost.

A reporter asked whether a public subscription of postage funds in Canada, with the proceeds sent to U.S. border post offices to cover deficient postage, would meet with the U.S. department's approval.

"I guess it would," Walter replied.

Dramatic, yet essentially simple, is this dress. It owes so much to its use of white with black. The dress is of white chiffon and the banding at the high, round neckline, at the bow-tied waist and the hem band is black satin. The frock buttons in back. It can be worn over a black slip but is more effective and youthful over white.

Dinner Marks Golden Wedding

WESTBANK—Celebrating their golden wedding Monday were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Gorman of Grouse, who have spent all but a few months of these 50 years in the Okanagan.

Though married in Alberta, at Loma, where, as Eva Edna Dunfield, the future Mrs. Gorman was teaching, they came to Armstrong a few months later, and to the Westbank district in 1915. Of interest is the fact that they were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grieve Elliott, where Miss Dunfield was boarding, and they too came to the Okanagan, living first at Glenora and then at Westbank.

A highlight of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman's wedding day was the motor car ride to High River following the ceremony. In those days cars were few and far between, particularly in the prairie country, and this one made the round trip from High River to the first stage of their wedding trip to Mr. Gorman's home near Fairfield, Iowa.

A native of Iowa, Mr. Gorman was only about 18 when he immigrated to Canada, homesteaded on the prairie, as did many Americans at that time. Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman decided to come to B.C. and made their home just outside Armstrong, where Mr. Gorman worked for MacNair's Exchange, and where their eldest son, Bert, and their daughter, Helen, were born.

Mrs. Gorman's family came from Ontario, and in Westbank she has three sisters: Mrs. M. G. Hussey, Mrs. F. A. Runnells, and Mrs. M. Chabot. An uncle, Dr. George Brown, D.D., of Kingston, retired, recently visited his niece, and was disappointed at missing the opportunity of visiting his classmate at college, Dr. W. J. Knox, who was in Vancouver just at that time. Dr. Brown's son, Dr. Malcolm Brown, a Rhodes Scholar, is professor of internal medicine and consultant specialist, at Queens University.

ESTABLISH MILL
Mr. and Mrs. Gorman have three sons and a daughter: Bert, John and Ross, and Helen, all living here. Helen is a member of the teaching staff, and the sons have orchards, supervised by Bert, as in recent years, John and Ross established a small mill, for cutting box-lumber, mainly.

With the advent of bins for apple-picking, the brothers decided to enter that field, and have built up a thriving business, selling largely to fruit growers in Washington. Only last week they were in that state on business connected with the sawmill. They employ some 15 men during the summer season, and from eight to 10 during the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gorman entertained a family dinner Monday in honor of their parents' golden wedding.

Many Visitors For Christmas At Peachland

PEACHLAND—Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garraway on Sunday, enroute to the southern states were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Trautman, of Vernon, former residents of the district. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lloyd-Jones and son Billy, also stopped at the Garraway's enroute to Edmonton from Kamloops, to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gerrie have arrived from Valenmont for the Yuletide season. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jeffrey will arrive in time to spend Christmas at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Witt with their young daughter Avril, have left for Vancouver to spend Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Coleman.

Home from school for the Christmas holidays are: Don Warren, UBC; Gwen Garraway, Yale; House, Vancouver; Johnnie Garraway, Vernon Preparatory School.

Harvey Sims, who has been a patient in the Kelowna hospital, is now at home with his family.

Others who will be at home for Christmas include: Miss Margaret Long, from teaching duties at Prince George; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martinuk and Maureen, from Revelstoke; Mr. and Mrs. W. Knutson and young Billy, from Kelowna, all at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Long, Great Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wyatt and two children, Michael and Barbara, from Trail; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wyatt and son Tommy from Kelowna; at the home of the Wyatts: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Miller will have Mr. and Mrs. Ken Quigley with their five children from Midway; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Humphrey and two children, from Rutland; Mr. and Mrs. W. Quigley, Rutland and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Quigley and two boys from Glenora.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Tapham, Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornier, John Lake, brothers Dan and Ken Blower, Vancouver; Bob and daughter D'Arcy from West from Trail; Mr. and Mrs. Verne Ferguson, Nanaimo, Cpl. latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ferguson, Cold Lake, Alta.; Jack Long, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Many Family Gatherings At Christmas For Westbank

WESTBANK—Family gatherings at home and abroad are planned by many Westbankers, and already UBC students have arrived home for Christmas and New Year's. Among these are Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Maddock, daughter of Riley will be the latter's father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maddock; G. H. Williamson, of Revelstoke; Peter Basham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Basham; Hans Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks, and Barry Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ferguson plan to spend Christmas in Kelowna with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McIntosh, and five children, who took up residence there this week. Coming from Rocklen, Sask., Dr. McIntosh will practice with the Underhill clinic.

On Boxing Day Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will travel to Vernon where they will be guests of Mr. Ferguson's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. G. Schuster.

Another visitor to Vernon for Christmas will be Mrs. Olive Mitchell, to be reunited with her sister, Mrs. Fred Watts, whom she has not seen for nine years. Mr. and Mrs. Watts and family plan to spend the weekend there.

Kenny Mitchell and his cousin, Steve Hardwick, have gone to Spillmacheen to spend the holidays with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Watts.

Coming from Salmon Arm to spend Christmas with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Basham, will be Rev. and Mrs. Frank Stanley and family.

EN ROUTE TO BERMUDA
Miss Arnelia Stephen, RN, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferguson. Coming from Vancouver, where she has been on the staff of the Vancouver General Hospital, Miss Stephens is on her way to Bermuda, and will visit her home in Saskatchewan en route. She is one of a group of four nurses who plan to work in Bermuda.

Among other travellers from the coast will be Miss Betty Davidson, RN, who will spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan H. Davidson; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ewing, with Bobby and Lori, who will be guests of Mrs. Ewing's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Windt, for Christmas.

T. E. Windt left Saturday to return to his home in Alexandria, after attending a meeting of the Vegetable Marketing Board in Kelowna, and spending a couple of days with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Windt.

Other Cariboo holiday visitors will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hewlett and family, of Prince George. They are presently in Vancouver, and after visiting other coastal points and Mrs. Hewlett's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pickett, at Okanagan, Wash., plan to spend New Year's with Mrs. Hewlett's parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broadhead.

Coming from south of the line will be Mr. and Mrs. Donald Potter and small daughter, Juanita, of Brady, Mont., who will holiday with Mr. Potter's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Potter and Lois.

TRAVELS EAST
Leaving Monday for Hamilton were Mickey Rumley and Raymond, who will spend Christmas with Mr. Rumley's parents in Hamilton.

BRIEFS FROM BRITAIN

RUSSIAN LINK
LONDON (CP) — The Russian thought it was a kind of railway ministry is planning to link it with a rail link with Britain.

CHASE STARRINGS
WORCESTER, England (CP) — The tunnel, costing £3,000,000, will be completed in 1963, a year after the first which has been built. The tunnel will be built over rural areas here at dusk.

SLUM CLEARANCE
NOTTINGHAM, England (CP) — The Nottinghamshire council will spend £7,000,000 to demolish slums and re-develop areas in the county.

BEER QUENCHER
BRIGHTON, England (CP) — Beer put out a fire when a large rubbish bin in a public house here caught fire. The heat burst dozens of bottles and their contents doused the flames.

SIT-DOWN JOB
UNBRIDGE, England (CP) — When three purveyors failed to appear at an auction in this Middlesex community, three workmen digging a trench outside the court were called to take their place.

COSTLY FIRES
LONDON (CP) — The British insurance association says the cost of fire damage in the United Kingdom in the first 10 months of this year was £40,000,000. This is more than double the previous record for an entire year.

TRAD WITH SCOTLAND
GLASGOW, Scotland (CP) — B. C. Butler, Canada's trade commissioner in London, has visited Glasgow to arrange office accommodation for a Canadian trade commissioner to Scotland. An appointment is expected next week.

BIG SURPRISE
BRIDLETON, Eng (CP) — Two small boys put their code in a slot machine in this Yorkshire town and then hopelessly put their

CLYDE TUNNELS
GLASGOW, Scotland (CP) — The city corporation will build a second tunnel under the Clyde River.

ALL IN NUTSHELL
BURY ST. EDMUNDS, Eng (CP) — England's smallest pub, the Nutshell, measures 12 feet by seven feet. Two rugby teams and their supporters, a total of 83 people, managed to fit in by sitting on each others' shoulders and standing on the bar, beating the record of 43 set by Cambridge undergraduates.

LADY CORONER
SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Go-gama and Sudbury Districts are to have a woman coroner. It has been announced. She is Dr. Elsie Irene Culhnan, 47, a nurse and a forest official who recently took up residence at Go-gama, 100 miles northwest of here.

GIARDELLO READY TO MEET FULLMER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fight promoter Jimmy Raggio said Monday he has offered Gene Fullmer, National Boxing Association middleweight champion, a $100,000 guarantee to meet Joey Giardello here in March or April.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

This is an excellent day for bringing to culmination the business projects and financial deals, you have been planning over the past weeks. You have the good will and friendship of those in high places and you can count on the cheerful co-operation of co-workers. But you must co-operate, too. Do your share, carry out your own responsibilities, even though they may be irksome at times, and you will find that everything goes easier.

The evening hours promise some interesting situations; also a piece of heart-warming news.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you may look forward to a year of interesting and stimulating changes. When these take place, you may feel a little anxiety at first. Keep calm and relaxed, however, and you will find that everything turns out for the best.

Under no circumstances should you yield to pessimism for, actually, you are likely to find some of your fondest dreams come to realization, especially where both personal and business interests are concerned. All in all, you should wind up this year with a fresher outlook on life in general.

A child born on this day will be sympathetic, compassionate and have a great love for intellectual pursuits.

Two Leaf Players Return To Action

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League get a couple of nessler.

A "NEW LOOK"

Canada's New Governor-General Planning To Travel Extensively

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The most evident thing about Governor-General Vanier's first three months in office is his apparent desire to be everybody's governor-general.

"I want to show that Government House doesn't belong only to Ottawa or to central Canada," he said recently. "I want, by travelling to as many parts of the country as possible, to show that it belongs to all Canadians."

Maj.-Gen. George Vanier, a spy-looking old soldier of 71, still is just getting acquainted with his job, but he's already making plans to travel. His aim for the new year: a visit to every province, starting with a springtime swing through the four western provinces, followed by a tour of the Atlantic area.

NOT WHISTLE STOPS

His visits to provincial capitals and other major cities won't be whistle stops. He hopes to stay two or three days wherever and whenever possible.

His first visit outside the capital was to Toronto, specifically to thank English-language Canadians for the many messages of good wishes he received from that city and from Ontario.

Later, he visited his native Montreal, where he lived after retiring from the army and diplomatic tasks in 1953, and Quebec City, home of the Van Doos—The Royal 22nd Regiment—of which he is a founding member, a former commander and now its colonel.

It is known he and Mme. Vanier were genuinely sorry that the date of his installation, Sept. 15, succeeding Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, and the time needed to get his vice-regal household organized, made it impossible for more travel before winter set in.

At Government House, where he served in the 1920s as aide-de-camp to two former governors-general, Gen. Vanier has had a busy time, receiving delegations of various groups asking for his patronage and getting to know people with whom he must deal.

VERSED IN DIPLOMACY

His diplomatic savoir-faire, picked up during his year as secretary to the high commission in London and as ambassador in Paris, comes in handy when foreign ambassadors come around to present their credentials.

Usually, this ceremony is little more than a formality, but Gen. Vanier makes it a practice to learn more about the foreign lands whose representatives call on him.

An aide said that when the ambassadors for Venezuela, Norway, Lebanon and Burma called with their letters of credence, the governor-general was waiting to discuss knowledgeably developments in their countries. He had spent a few hours earlier cramming available information about them.

His sense of humor, at times, can be a little disconcerting—but that effect is only momentary. One example of this was when a delegation from the Canadian Jewish Congress presented His Excellency with a scroll on the bicentenary of Canadian Jewry.

Larry Becker, chairman of the national bicentenary committee, began his address by remarking that the scroll was written in four languages: English, French, Hebrew and Yiddish.

"Are you going to read it in all four languages?" Gen. Vanier asked in jest.

STUCK TO ENGLISH

Mr. Becker laughed and said no, and read only the English version of the scroll, as he had intended all along.

In his reply to the Congress' delegation, Gen. Vanier repeated part of his installation address: "We Canadians of every origin, irrespective of race or creed, must go forward hand in hand to assure the greatness of our country. We are all God's children."

That typifies Gen. Vanier's in-English-language Canadians is his belief and basic principle of growing national unity. He put it another way in his reply to Master Nasser Phillips' address of welcome to Toronto.

"In every province, in every man of whatever race he may be, there is some good. Our duty is to look for that good. Let us extend the hand of welcome rather than the stone of judgment."

With dramatic flair, he chose his visit to Roman Catholic Quebec City to make clear his position towards his participation in non-Catholic church services. He referred in a speech there to a letter from an Anglican who had written:

"I can not see anything wrong with our governor-general being a Roman Catholic. However, I have been told that you, as a Roman Catholic, will not be allowed to take part in the services of worship of other denominations."

EXPLAINS POSITION

Gen. Vanier said he replied in part: "In the footsteps of my illustrious predecessors, I shall worship in private life according to the dictates of my conscience, in my particular faith, as is the prerogative of all free men. When duty or circumstances call for my presence as governor-general at a service of any other faith, you may rest assured that I shall be happy to attend and shall do so with entire freedom."

Gen. Vanier has received thousands of letters from Canadians of all faiths and all parts of the country, congratulating him on his appointment as Canada's second native-born governor-general. He still is replying to them, writing individual letters, not sending out a form reply.

He is known to regard these

WORD FOR QUEBECERS

He told young Quebecers in the group to take a larger interest in 4-H and other national groups because it is their duty to the whole of Canada to extend their French culture outside the borders of their home province.

For relaxation, Gen. Vanier reads a lot, often reading aloud for Mme. Vanier from Shakespeare and the romantic poets of the 19th century like Keats, Shelley and Byron.

His age has cut short his tennis and golf which he played even after losing his right leg above the knee in front-line action with the Van Doos during the First World War.

But his injury did not prevent him from giving up a law practice in the early 1920s to rejoin his regiment. For a couple of years during the Second World War he commanded the Eastern Quebec military area.

"There have been two great things in my life," he said once. "My family and my regiment."

Cash Farm Income Shows Sharp Gain Over Last Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Cash farm income from the sale of farm products for all provinces except Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan, in the first nine months of this year compared with the same period in 1958, the Bureau of Statistics estimated today.

Receipts were substantially higher in the first quarter and slightly up in the second quarter but slipped by a small amount in the third quarter.

Livestock and livestock products accounted for the month increase as returns from field crops remained about the same.

First-quarter income was $641,682,000 compared with $613,182,000; the second-quarter figure was $576,311,000 compared with $566,414,000; and the third-quarter total was $509,057,000 compared with $490,549,000.

The nine-month figure was higher for all provinces except Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan, increases ranging from one per cent in Quebec to almost six per cent in Manitoba. Declines were about one per cent in P. E. I., two in Saskatchewan and just over five in New Brunswick.

Lower returns from the sale of potatoes accounted for the reduction in the two Maritime provinces, while in Saskatchewan it was caused by smaller farm deliveries of wheat.

Returns from livestock and livestock products were estimated at $1,283,000,000, up by three per cent from the comparable 1958 total of $1,241,000,000. Except for eggs, larger returns were noted for all commodities under these classifications.

Film History In Last Decade Covered With Major Mistakes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film history in the last decade is peppered with mistakes that could have been fatal to another industry.

Some of the mistakes were unavoidable. Trust upon policy makers who were fighting for the movie industry's life. Others were made out of ego or ignorance. Whatever the cause, the mistakes were made, and Hollywood must live with the consequences.

Using the benefit of hindsight, 15 years of watching the movie world turn from boom to bust, I would cite these as the seven cardinal sins:

1. Firing contract players. When large studios began firing their big contract stars, they feared it would be cheaper to pay actors by the picture instead of paying weekly salaries. But they didn't realize a few stars would become powerful enough to dictate their demands. Thus a Cary Grant can ask for and get 20 per cent of a film's profits and full ownership after seven years.
2. Abolishing production control. By shoring their overhead of contract creators, the studios put themselves at the mercy of the independents. Top stars, directors and producers were in de-their work is stodgy and old-fashioned. There is none of the vitality of the movies in the '30s.

5. Selling of movie backlogs to TV. The dumping of hundreds of old movies into television helped the studios survive. But it meant giving aid and support to what had hurt the film business most—the home screen.
